

TORONTO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 2008

CLASS ACTION LAWSUIT FILED AGAINST SUNRISE PROPANE ENERGY GROUP INC. carrying on business as SUNRISE PROPANE INDUSTRIAL GASES and against 2094528 ONTARIO INC., the owner of the property where the explosion took place.

TODAY, Falconer Charney LLP filed a class action on behalf of Francesco Cugliari and Jan Anthony Thomas claiming $100 million in compensation for all residents, property owners, business operators and persons who sustained damages as a result of the propane explosion which occurred at the Sunrise Propane plant located at 54 and 62 Murray Street, on August 10, 2008 in North York, Ontario.

Residents may be entitled to compensation for inhaling propane fumes; experiencing physical injury; experiencing emotional injury, including fear for your life and for your family; sustaining damage to your property; contamination of the land and the cost of remediation; relocation expenses for mileage, food and alternative accommodation; reduction in the market value of your home or commercial building due to contamination and proximity to the propane storage facility; loss of employment or business income.

For more information, visit www.sunrisepropaneclassaction.com or contact Ted Charney at Falconer Charney LLP (416) 964-3408, extension 225 or tedcharney@fcbarristers.com